BridgeBio Pharma, Inc. is a commercial-stage, multi-product biopharmaceutical company organized around a portfolio operating model to discover, develop, and deliver medicines for patients with genetic diseases. We seek to translate advances in genetic science into therapies for patient populations with significant unmet medical needs. Since our founding 10 years ago, we have advanced multiple programs from discovery through regulatory approval and commercialization. To date, more than 8,500 patients have been treated with our approved medicines, and we have obtained U.S. Food and Drug Administration (the "FDA") approval for three products.
