SailPoint, Inc. (together with its consolidated subsidiaries, as appropriate, "SailPoint," the "Company," "our," or "we") delivers solutions to enable adaptive identity security for the enterprise. We do this via the SailPoint Platform that unifies identity data across systems and identity types, including employee identities, non-employee identities, machine identities, and AI agents for real-time governance. Our SaaS and customer-hosted offerings leverage intelligent analytics to provide organizations with critical visibility into which identities currently have access to which resources, which identities should have access to those resources, and how that access is being used.
