Firefly Neuroscience, Inc. is an artificial intelligence company advancing precision neuroscience, applying AI and large-scale electrophysiological data to give clinicians a more complete, objective picture of how an individual patient's brain is functioning. Firefly Neuroscience, Inc. is rebuilding the foundation of how electrophysiological data flows into clinical decision-making for brain health. We believe the brain is the most under-measured organ in medicine, and that the tools to change this have, until now, been inaccessible to the clinicians who need them most.
